Vila Lumbung House No. 6, Jalan Raya Petitenget 1000X, Kerobokan, Badung 80361, Bali, Indonesia • Phone/Fax +62-812-5514006 • E-Mail: emeijaard@pnc-int.com or emeijaard@gmail.com

EXPERIENCE

Writing and reporting on conservation and science topics, impact assessment of forestry on wildlife and related policy guidance, sustainability assessments plantation and forestry industries, land use planning and management, species conservation management, environmental conservation strategies, biodiversity surveys, ecological monitoring and conservation effectiveness measures, conservation policy research and advice, environmental economics and carbon trading, and ecological, taxonomic and evolutionary research.

ACADEMIC EDUCATION

- Ph.D. degree (2000–2004) in Biological Anthropology at the Australian National University, Australia
- Ingenieur degree (equals Master of Agricultural Sciences) (1989–1994) in Tropical Ecology at the Wageningen Agricultural University and University of Amsterdam, the Netherlands
- Undergraduate studies (1985–1986) in Environmental Sciences at the Wageningen Agricultural University

KEY QUALIFICATIONS

I am a conservation consultant, conservation scientist and program manager with 18 years of professional experience. Geographically my area of expertise is Indonesia, and to a lesser extent others parts of SE Asia. I am an experienced consultant with a record of delivering high quality output within set time frames. My high scientific publication output and ongoing research demonstrate my scientific skills. The books that I have written have become important reference works for non-governmental organizations as well as academic institutions, and the Indonesian government and private sector. This recognition is extended to the international conservation and research scene. I am a strategic thinker who focuses on developing the big picture before narrowing down on how management and research can address the associated issues. My strengths lie primarily on the interface between academic research and its application in the field. I have worked for several timber, plantation and mining companies, as well as several international donor projects and NGOs. Since 1999, I have published two books, 67 papers in international peer reviewed journals, 8 book chapters, and a range of conference papers and newspaper articles; I have been the chief editor of 3 science and conservation newsletters. Through my work in Indonesian conservation I am very comfortable to work with people and organizations from with different backgrounds, including government, NGOs, and private sector, and I enjoy working in a multicultural environment, and building up local science capacity.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Dates	Employer	Position	Scope of work
August 2009 – present	People & Nature Consulting International	Forest Director	Lead consultant on environmental planning, sustainable forest management, wildlife conservation, conservation review and monitoring, mining and plantation management, REDD, and organizational planning and budgeting
October 2004– July 2009	The Nature Conservancy (TNC)-Indonesia Program	Senior Scientist and Program Manager	Developing and coordinate research, training, and management in the various conservation programs of TNC in Indonesia, and managing program for TNC's forest program sites in Kalimantan, Sulawesi, and Papua.
March 2006– July 2009	TNC (USAID)	OCSF Conservation Advisor and Chief of Party	Coordinating all Kalimantan projects of the Orangutan Conservation Support Program (OCSF), and managing TNC's 2nd USAID orangutan grant and related programs in East Kalimantan
June 2002– May 2004	Center for International Forestry Research (CIFOR)	Long-term consultant	Writing and editing a book and several papers on vertebrate diversity in East Kalimantan, and sensitivity of these species to timber harvest and other factors related to logging
October 1997– January 1999	World Wide Fund for Nature– Netherlands (WNF)	Programme Coordinator	Designing and guiding projects in Indonesia aimed at the conservation of forests, coral reefs, and endangered animal species and coordinating the bilateral collaboration between WNF and WWF Indonesia.
April 1994– June 1997	Tropenbos Kalimantan Project	Ecological researcher	Establishing species distribution databases (GIS format), investigating large mammal distribution patterns in Borneo and Sumatra, researching illegal species trade both nationally and internationally, and assisting in the confiscation of illegally kept wildlife.

CONSULTANCIES

ONGOING PROJECTS

Dates	Employer	Scope of work
July 2010 – present	CIFOR, Indonesia	Review to be fed into a project led by FSC in preparation for a multi-year project on Ecosystem Services certification
May 2010 - present	SA Now, Luxemburg	South-East Asia coordinator for the conservation program development of the Shining Hope Foundation.
October 2009 – present	CIFOR, Indonesia	Comments and guidance on paper regarding great apes and conservation
January 2010 – present	TNC, USA	Participate in and assist the development of TNC's measures and monitoring and conservation planning strategies

COMPLETED PROJECTS

Dates	Employer	Scope of work
August 2009 – July 2010	Lynx Edicions, Spain	Writing Tragulidae and Suidae chapters for the Mammals of the World hand book series (D. Wilson and R. Mittermeier)

January– June 2010	Komunika Partners, Indonesia	Assisting in the research and write up of the sustainability report for Asia Pulp and Paper with field studies in Jambi and Riau Provinces, Sumatra.
July 2009 –June 2010	TNC, USA	Chief Editor of the monthly science newsletter Science Chronicles for The Nature Conservancy
March 2010	DAI , Cambodia	Preparation and guiding of field trip by Cambodian delegation to Danau Sentarum NP, West Kalimantan
February – March 2010	ARD Inc, Indonesia	Write a summary and review of the Orangutan Conservation Services Program
August 2009 – March 2010	USAID – OCSP, Indonesia	Management recommendations for orangutans outside protected areas; newsletter editor, data analysis and write up
July 2009 – January 2010	UNESCO, Indonesia	Review assignment for Biospheres Reserves in the Asia Pacific region.
October – December 2009	Arcus Foundation, USA and UK	Analysis of major policy issues regarding great ape conservation and an examination of opportunities for strategic intervention.
September 2009	Öko-Institut e.V, Austria	Review of reports on spatial data availability in Indonesia and Malaysia for the BioSt-NachV – Subproject Spatial Requirements
July 2009	FFI and BHP Billiton, Indonesia	Peer review of HCVF assessment of BHP Billiton’s PT Maruwai Coal Contracts of Work area and project advisor
May 2009	Daemeter Consult, Indonesia	Peer review for HCVF assessment of PT. Daya Landak Plantation
January – February 2009	TNC, Indonesia	Review of TNC’s Papua New Guinea program
January – April 2004	IUCN/SSC	Short term consultant for the Southeast Asia Mammal Databank project reviewing mammal distribution data
December 2003 – February 2004	Gibbon Foundation and IUCN/SSC	Development Population and Habitat Viability data for orangutans
October 2002 – February 2003	WWF, Indonesia	Field and desktop study of bearded pig (Sus barbatus)
April 2002	SGS, Malaysia	Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certification audit peer review for Deramakot concession, Sabah
January – March 2000	CIFOR, Indonesia	Editing 7 reports from the people and fire project
April – June 2000	WWF, Indonesia	Field and desktop study of banteng (Bos javanicus)

SCIENTIFIC AWARDS AND PRIZES

In 2008, I was awarded the Victor E. Shelford Award for Conservation Science for my work on promoting conservation science in Indonesia and the high scientific standards of my conservation effectiveness monitoring programs.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Period of Engagement	Role
2008–present	Member of UK-based World Land Trust Scientific Advisory Board
2008–present	Member of Biotropica Editorial Board
2007–present	Member of Borneo Orangutan Society – UK Scientific Advisory Board
2007–present	Member of the Great Ape Survival Project (GRASP) Scientific Commission
2006–present	Member of the Indonesian High Conservation Value Forests working group
2004–present	Visiting Research Fellow at the Australian National University, Canberra
2004–present	Member of the IUCN/SSC Deer Specialist Group
2004–present	Member of the Great Ape Subsection of the IUCN/SSC Primate Specialist Group
2009–2010	Editor of the monthly “Science Chronicles”, The Nature Conservancy’s global science newsletter
2005–2009	Editor and initiator of “Forest Science News”, TNC Indonesia’s science newsletter: http://conserveonline.org/workspaces/fsn
2004–2009	Member of the IUCN/SSC Asian Cattle Specialist Group
2002–2007	Chief editor and initiator of Suiform Soundings, the twice-yearly newsletter of the IUNC Pigs, Peccaries and Hippos Specialist Group
2001–present	Member and Asia coordinator of the IUCN/SSC Pigs, Peccaries and Hippos Specialist Group
2000–present	Peer-reviewer for (numbers of papers reviewed): Biotropica (17, member of editorial board); Oryx (5); Conservation Biology (4); Biological Conservation (4); Journal of Biogeography (3); Malayan Nature Journal (3); Biodiversity and Conservation (3); Small Carnivore News (2); Ecology Letters (1); PlosOne (1); Raffles Bulletin of Zoology (1); Acta Theriologica (1); Mammalia (1); Biological Journal of the Linnean Society (1); Zoological Journal of the Linnean Society (1); Climate Policy (1); Ecology & Society (1); International Journal of Primatology (1); Zootaxa (1); Journal of Plant Ecology (1); Ursus (1); Endangered Species Research (1), Forktail (1), and Palaeogeography, Palaeoclimatology, Palaeoecology (1). Also proposal reviewer for National Science Foundation (1).

CURRENT SCIENTIFIC COLLABORATIONS

Dates	Partner	Collaborators	Scope of research
2009 – present	School of Mathematical Sciences, Queensland University of Technology	Prof Kerrie Mengersen	Statistical analysis of complex survey and monitoring datasets; Bayesian statistics
2008 – present	Indonesian Association of Primatologists	Dr. Noviar Andayani Dr. Suci Utami	Orangutan distribution and threats
2007 –	Spatial Ecology Lab, University	Prof Hugh	Spatial optimization models; global studies

present	of Queensland	Possingham; Dr Kerrie Wilson; Oscar Venter; Simon Drummond	on conservation research; conservation economics
2007 – present	Research School of Biology, Australian National University	Dr. Marcel Cardillo	Mathematical modelling of species distributions
2007 – present	Centre for Mathematics and its Applications Australian Nat. University	Prof Alan Welsh	Analysis of time series of orangutan encounter data
2006 – present	Biology Department, Universiti Brunei Darussalam	Dr. Matt Struebig	Oil palm plantation; bat conservation and biogeography
2005 – present	Graduate Group in Ecology; University of California, Davis	Prof Andrew J. Marshall	Primate conservation; survey methodology
2003 – present	Institute of Tropical Forest Conservation, Uganda	Dr. Douglas Sheil	Timber concessions and conservation; general conservation issues

FUNDRAISING AND MAJOR GRANTS

- 2007 – Co-authored technical proposal for successful bid for an $500,000 AusAID grant
- 2007 – Co-authored concept for technical proposal for successful bid on an $8 million USAID grant with DAI and TNC
- 2007 – Wrote a proposal for small grant (Euro 3,500) from the Van Tienhoven Foundation
- 2006–2008 – Co-authored several proposals for $ 1,100,000–1,000,000 grants from the Sall Family Foundation
- 2005 – Research grant for Javan Warty Pig surveys and launch breeding program (€ 5280) from Foundation Zoos Help
- 2003 – Research grant for Javan Warty Pig (USD 14,000) from the Gibbon Foundation
- 2001 – Research grant from The Field Museum (USD 2,500)
- 2000 - ANU Ph.D. Scholarship, 2000
- 2000 - International Student Scholarship, Government of Australia
- 1994 – Grant from Lucie Burgers Foundation for the Kalimantan Orangutan Project – NLG 5,000
- 1994 – Grant for bear studies from Van Tienhoven Foundation – NLG 2,000

EXAMPLES OF RESEARCH IMPACT

My work on orangutans from 1994 to the present has pushed orangutan conservation into a more science-based direction. I developed the first GIS for orangutan distribution and threats, which became the basis for the “Our Vanishing Relative” book, which in turn provided the basis for the Population and Habitat Viability Assessment (PHVA) in 2004 on which the present Indonesian Orangutan Action Plan is based.

My work with Douglas Sheil on the value of well-managed timber concessions for the conservation of vertebrates has been a driving factor in focusing the attention of conservation NGOs on timber concessions (see, for example, TNC’s improved forest management programs), and has helped the shift towards landscape-level management of conservation values, from an initial focus on protected areas alone.

My research on mammal phylogeny and evolution in relation to palaeoenvironments is much cited in studies on the biogeography of Sundaland and other parts of South-East Asia. Also, my work on palaeoenvironments of small islands in Sundaland has been much quoted in studies regarding the vegetation shifts that occurred during the last glacial maximum.

My work on developing indicators for assessing the effectiveness of different conservation strategies using statistical counterfactuals is ground-breaking in that it is one of the first studies of its kind using rigorous statistical analysis to establish what works and what doesn’t in conservation. The data remain unpublished but I expect that they will attract a lot of attention once they are made public.

PROFESSIONAL FAILURES

I would have liked to be more successful in helping conservation scientists and practitioners bridge the divide that separates them, and more effectively apply the theories and insights of conservation science into the practical world of conservation. More specifically, I have failed to:

- translate 3 years of detailed field research on the factors determining the decay of deer dung for ungulate censuses and its important conservation science implications into scientific publications.
- publish a ground-breaking, highly-cited study in a top science journal.
- reverse the decline of orangutans in Kalimantan, and increase the accountability and transparency in orangutan conservation, despite my significant efforts in this field (studies, publications, communication, and actual habitat conservation).
- reverse the downward trend of threatened pig species, regardless of 15 years of in-depth engagement with the IUNC/SSC pigs specialist group.
- provide a working model of how to effectively reconcile economic development goals with conservation objectives at a project basis.

1999	October	Seoul, S. Korea	IUCN, Trade in Bear Parts

MEDIA EXPERIENCE

I regularly feature in radio and TV programs regarding Indonesian conservation for a range of Indonesian and international networks. I also frequently contribute opinion articles to Indonesian newspapers. Several articles have been written about me or my work including the following: US Congressional Record (Jan. 2008); Frontiers in Ecology and Environment (Jan. 2008); TNC Magazine (May 2008); Action Asia (Nov. 2008); Koran Tempo (April 2009); and Conservation & Society (Jan. 2007). Since mid 2007, I have written a monthly internet column on TNC nature.org website and contributed regularly to TNC's science blog (<http://blog.nature.org/author/emeijaard/>).
